

THE SOCIAL SIDE OF LIFE

THE most important event of the week just opening will be the concert on Monday night for the benefit of the book fund for the blind. The event is really the opening of the magnificent ball room, and is of interest for that as well as for the excellence of the programme which has been prepared. The affair is under the direct management of the young girls, but the board of directors are all on the list of patronesses and besides them are Mrs. E. F. Holmes, Mrs. Edwin Kimball, Mrs. Ed. Rosenbaum, Mrs. William Bassett and Mrs. Harris Masters. The singers are Miss Florence Kimball, who will give a Japanese song cycle, Miss Edna Cohn and Mrs. Harold Siegel, while Spencer Clawson will be the pianist.

Numerous affairs are planned for the week to inaugurate the early fall series of teas and card parties. Mrs. Cansten Browne has issued invitations for tea on Tuesday at her home from 3 till 6 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Mostyn Owen will entertain at a tea at her home on Wednesday evening from 3 till 6 to meet her guests, Mrs. Gamlin, Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett and Mrs. Zaluski will entertain at a tea on Friday afternoon in the Cummings apartments for Mrs. Calhoun, who is visiting Mrs. R. B. Harkness. Mrs. E. F. Holmes will receive her friends at her usual fortnightly at home also on Friday afternoon.

Miss Lillian Schneider, who is visiting Miss Virginia Shannon, entertained a party of young girls chaperoned by Mrs. T. B. Shannon yesterday afternoon at the Orpheum, following the play with a supper at the Royal. The guests were Miss Ethel Bixby, Miss Rose McDonough, Miss Winnifred McDonough, Miss Lydia White, Miss Margaret Collins, Miss Edna Shepard, Miss Ruby Lambourne and Miss Doris Raymond.

Mrs. Willard Hanson was the hostess yesterday afternoon at a very pleasant affair at her home on Ninth East street. Six tables of bridge were played and later as many more friends came in for tea. The home was beautiful with flowers, various colored asters decorating all the rooms of the house except in the dining room, where yellow coreopsis formed the decoration with yellow satin under-lace covering the table and the same shade in all the appointments. Prizes of white and gold china carried out still further the yellow color scheme. At the tea which followed the game, Mrs. E. V. Silver and Mrs. Frank Anderson poured tea and coffee, with Miss Carrie Sappington, Miss Zeta Morris, Miss May Thomas and Miss Daisy Savage assisting. The hostess was further assisted by Mrs. K. S. Moffat and Mrs. John Reed.

Two of the fairest young girls in the debutante class, Miss Denise Karriek and Miss Dorothy Bookledge, have already taken on the attitude of business women and taking time by the forelock have prepared themselves to open a real dancing class, not alone for the tiny tots who are always needing lessons, but for their own friends and even for the grownups in the father and mother class. The girls are both enterprising young women. Miss Karriek having taken a course through the summer in the Gilbert School of Dancing in Boston. Both are especially talented in their line and their classes, especially those arranged for the high school boys and girls and the Wednesday Evening Dancing club, will be a feature of the winter's entertainments. The classes are under the patronage of Mrs. W. P. Kiser, Mrs. Union Worthington, Mrs. W. Montague and Mrs. Benner X. Smith. They will be held in the Ladies' Literary club.

Tennis being over for the time being, the women golfers are beginning to turn their attention to their tournament

A Confidential Talk on Corsets

Ladies, the most important garment worn is the corset. Stop and consider what it means. Think of it ladies, its the foundation of health, comfort and appearance and the beauty of it is all three combined can be readily given when you put yourself in the hands of an expert corsetier.

When properly corseted one can always be well groomed. Your dressmaker or tailor cannot give you the graceful and stylish lines unless properly corseted. Your corset is what moulds your figure and shows your gown off to best advantage.

The first lines to grace is to appear thoroughly comfortable. Your corset should be so well fitted and strike every line of your figure so correctly that you are absolutely comfortable.

No matter how stout the lady may be, it is not necessary to wear a heavy corset, it is not the weight that holds the figure in place, it's the cut, and that cut must be suitable to the figure.

Corsets like everything else changes according to the different styles and fads which makes it all the more necessary to understand what model to give and what alterations to make in order to give a stylish and up-to-date figure and at the same time comfort.

Corsetry is an individual study. An expert corsetier is one who has given a long time in study. She has to be thoroughly well versed before she attempts to fit a lady to a corset. HER EXPERIENCE IS NOT GAINED BY selling corsets over a counter. Its from her long study and thorough experience she becomes a corsetier.

Now, ladies, is it not necessary that you seek an expert corsetier? You will be properly fitted only by putting yourself in her hands.

You have the opportunity right here in your own city. You can have the advice of an expert corsetier (formerly of B. Altman & Co. of New York), at any and all times, and won't have to pay any more for a perfect fitting corset than you do for an ill-fitting one, by going to which was launched last spring by Mrs. N. C. Gammon. At that time the scores were all in and the landscape determined, when a terrible attack of encephalitis overtook the players, and it was thought best to postpone the play till cooler weather. The new scores will be turned in today, and the eight best players will play a qualifying match tomorrow. The semi-finals will be played on Tuesday and the finals on Wednesday, closing up the games in the three days. The trophy is a handsome spoon offered by Mrs. Gammon to the winner.

The Wilson Corset Company

Mrs. J. P. Grant entertained at a beautifully arranged children's party yesterday in celebration of the sixth birthday of her little son Arvin. Games were played during the afternoon and a supper served to the little company. The guests being Annette and Josephine McElroy, Frederica and Betty Brown, Florence Richards, Jane Hampton, Mary Elizabeth Fairweather, George and Harvey Ouellet, Joseph Richards, Jack Day, Alar Leonard, Richard and John Fennimore and Bonnie Wright of Ogden.

A very delightful affair was the luncheon given by Mrs. F. N. Cameron at the Commercial club at which a large company of her friends were entertained. The table was laid in the gold room and all the decorations were in harmony with the place—a great basket of golden hued chrysanthemums filling the center of the table, while place cards showing the monogram of the hostess in gold were at each place. The guests were: Mrs. W. D. MacLean, Mrs. J. A. Reeves, Mrs. E. E. Macey, Mrs. A. E. Kimball, Miss Laura Samson, Mrs. F. Bassett, Mrs. G. A. Light, Mrs. J. H. McChrystal, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. H. G. Williams, Mrs. R. L. Klein, Mrs. F. B. Stephens, Mrs. J. M. Bowman, Mrs. S. V. Derrah, Mrs. S. C. Sherrill, Mrs. Ben Morris, Mrs. R. P. Morris, Mrs. Sam Neel, Mrs. A. H. Gody, Mrs. E. Sautscho, Sr., and Mrs. Charles Hood.

Mrs. J. H. Witbeck entertained a dozen of her friends at a very delightful luncheon on Friday at her home, the affair being in honor of Mrs. W. T. Corbin, formerly of this city, but now of Riverside, Cal. Pink and white asters were used for the decorations, and all the appointments were in the same colors.

Miss Mary Jennings entertained a merry party of young girls yesterday afternoon at her home on Laird avenue, the affair being in honor of Miss Priscilla Jennings and Miss Bessie and Miss Helen Sprague, who have recently returned to the city after living in Arizona. Six tables of 500 were played and tea followed when an informal social hour was spent.

Mrs. George W. Lambourne entertained again yesterday at the third of a series of bridge parties at her home, when seven tables of her friends enjoyed the game with a tea following at which Mrs. W. H. Weyher and Miss Ruby Lambourne assisted.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS

A most interesting marriage of the week will be that of Miss Luvera Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Snow, and Theodore Gentsch of Spokane. The Beautiful Ball Room of Hotel Utah will be opened Monday evening with a concert given by leading artists, for charity.

THE BALDWIN PIANO has been selected, and will be used exclusively at this concert. The Baldwin piano received the Grand Prix at the Paris Exposition and the Grand Prize at St. Louis Exposition, Legion of Honor decoration by French Government.

The Baldwin is used by the world's greatest artists, is given preference in Mrs. Taft's music room at the White House, and in the homes of the most cultured.

We represent the five different factories of the Baldwin Company—The Hamilton, The Ellington, The Howard, the Monarch and the Baldwin pianos and player-pianos.

These instruments have received the world's highest honors, and are sold with a strong guarantee. We can save you money, as we are the Baldwin company's factories' representatives, and the piano goes from the factory to your home. We can arrange terms to suit you.

If it's a Baldwin make, it must be a good piano.
